OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

WEDNESDAY MORNING DEC 6 1865

The Governor's Message

The Governor's Message was sent in yesterday (Tuesday) to the Legislature assembled in special session at the State Capital. This very important document is published in our columns this morning. It will command very general attention both because the people expect that it will show reasons why the Legislature should be convened in extraordinary session and also because of the excellence and the unequivocal character of the document itself.

The Message presents in strong language and with sufficient fullness of argument, the principal reason for holding the special session. It is not expected, however, that every class of our people will be satisfied with the reasons given. But all who can lay aside the prejudices and animosities of partisans and rise to a broad view of the subject involved in and firmly discussed by the leading portion of the Message, will be glad to see Oregon step forward as she is doing now and take a part in consummating our national freedom and establishing the country on a basis which will insure our future peace, safety and prosperity.

A number of other matters upon which the necessities of the times call for legislation are presented in the Message. Among these a registry law is named, and the reasons why it should be enacted, strongly enforced. Suggestions are also made, setting forth the desirableness of having the Criminal Code amended in some quite important particulars. The Sunday law is noticed and some modification of its provisions suggested.

Among the documents which accompany the Message and which we shall print hereafter, are the Reports of the Secretary of State, of the Penitentiary Commissioners, of the Proprietors of the Insane Asylum and of the State Printer. From these Reports full and accurate information can be derived regarding the various interests of the State. The people will now be able to see for themselves the falsity of the charges made by certain parties to the effect that the State has been brought to financial ruin by the prodigality of those who have controlled its affairs during the past few years.

ALREADY VERIFIED.—On his arrival at his home in Chicago Gov Bross, (who, as all our people recollect, was a prominent member of the Colfax party) was invited to deliver an address before the Chicago Academy of Science, giving the result of his observations while on his tour to to this coast. We take the following paragraph from the report that was given of his remarks.

Speaking of Utah, he said it also, (as well as Colorado,) abounded in minerals, including the precious metals, coal and iron. The speaker predicted that in a year silver would be shipped from Idaho by the ton. In addition to the regions already enumerated, the lecturer alluded briefly to the mineral resources of Montana and the Fraser river country, and exhibited a specimen of gold from the latter country. He predicted also that as exploration of the gold bearing regions of the continent and [illegible] the precious metals will be discovered in quantities which will astonish the world. In conclusion, Governor Bross alluded eloquently to the vast resources of our country and splendid future of mineral prosperity made possible thereby.

This prediction concerning Idaho is already wholly fulfilled. It was not necessary to wait until next year to find Idaho achieving all that the Governor promised for her. Even while he spoke she was already pouring out "silver by the ton." Not many weeks ago, masses of silver amounting in the aggregate to about twenty two hundred pounds, the product of a single mine in Idaho, was shipped through this place to San Francisco. This is but the beginning of what is to be added to the wealth of the world from the wonderful mines of Idaho and Montana. No doubt the Chicagoans thought the Governor was making a somewhat wide excursion into the realms of fancy, or that he was speaking of possibilities rather than realities when he talked about the precious metals coming by the ton from a region scarcely more than heard of by most of his audience, but as already shown, his statements fall below what has even now been accomplished. Next year will disclose greater results than even Governor Bross ever expected to see. His predictions of this year will be entirely eclipsed by the vaster achievements of next summer and fall. Idaho and Montana will prove to be the whole world's exchequer—a storehouse from which all the nations may draw their silver and gold.

The Southern people, and even the Provisional Governors of the conquered States proceed upon the idea that the South is sinned against rather than sinning. They talk complainingly of their hard lot, and by their actions indicate their sorrow because of the failure of their attempt to achieve independence. Though they are forced to submit to one or two conditions only in order to regain their position, yet when they do this they talk as if the United States had wronged them and as if a great balance of reparation were their due. They abolish slavery—an institution already extinct—and then, by reason of having performed this act of condescension, claim the right to dictate the entire policy of the Government in relation to all other things that concern them.

The Grand Jury of Franklin county, Pa., has indicted McCausland for the burning of Chambersburg. Why don't the citizens of South Carolina indict Gen. Sherman for the burning of Columbia? It is about time to let bygones be bygones, if we ever expect to have a country again.—Copperhead Paper.

Wouldn't it be well to apply this suggestion to the case of Gen. Palmer, lately indicted by a Kentucky jury? We are willing "to let bygones be bygones," but sometimes we can't help remembering that had the rebels succeeded, the Copperheads with their Southern allies would have sent every prominent Union man of the North to a dungeon or a gallows.

The Statesman after having forsaken the Union party and pronounced in favor of a "new national organization" which should be composed of such exalted patriots as the "new Union men of the South," S. S. Cox, and its own distinguished patrons, Nesmith and Harding, now has the effrontery to accuse the true members of the party of being "disorganizers." This is another illustration of the old adage "No one ever did wrong without trying to excuse himself by charging an equal fault on some one else."

CUSHING SENT TO ENGLAND.—Caleb Cushing sailed from New York for England in the steamer of the 4th November. He went on a special legal mission connected with the State Department. His business was kept confidential, but it is understood that it has reference to an adjudication of the claims for damages made by this Government on Great Britain for depredations of rebel pirates on our commerce.

Col. C. S. Lovell, of the 14th U. S. Infantry, arrived at Vancouver a few days ago, and will take command of the Department. Capt. Hodges, also lately arrived, will relieve Capt. Wrotts as Department Quartermaster.

A letter from Senator Williams dated Washington, Oct. 28th, informs us that Capt. John Smith of Linn county, is appointed Indian Agent at Warm Springs, in place of Wm. Logan, deceased.

Kurtz, the man who murdered the Chinaman at Idaho City is to be hung on the 19th of January next.

The Legislature of Washington Territory is now in session, having convened last Monday.

By Overland Telegraph.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 1.

From the Southern States.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—Nothing is doing in the Legislature. They are waiting for the country members. Pierre Soule has resolved to practice law here. The Mississippi Legislature has adopted a bill permitting negroes to testify in all cases in which only whites are interested. Gov. [illegible] speech is generally denounced. It is said to be [illegible] revolutionary sentiments [illegible] them.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The Virginia Legislature meets on Monday. It is believed the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery will be passed, and the [illegible] debt repudiated.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—Governor Wells's message to the Legislature was read. He says Louisiana's loyalty has been renewed without reservation, and he accepts with sincerity the new order of things. He also urges especially the election of a U. S. Senator, and recommends the Legislature to pay all accrued interest without further delay. [illegible] the enactment of laws regulating the labor system allowing the parties interested to make their own terms, asks that all impediments to immigration be removed, urges a perfect organization of State militia, recommends that all taxes received on colored people for educational purposes be devoted to the education of that class exclusively. He says the present laws great stress on the purse of Louisiana, and is anxious that she should take her place in the Union. He invites the Legislature to unite with the executive authorities of the State in fresh evidence that Louisiana is determined to stand or fall with Johnson's reconstruction policy.

Additional News.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The citizens of New York have nearly completed arrangements to pay off the mortgage of $50,000 on the house purchased by Gen. Grant in Washington.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 28.—Thos. Settle, a staunch Union man was elected Speaker of State Senate to-day. Both Houses organized and adjourned till to-morrow.

Gov. Holden is improving and is able to sit up in his room.

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—One thousand five hundred workmen out of three thousand three hundred now employed in the navy yard will be discharged on Saturday.

Governor Cony of Maine, appointed Ganneral George T. Shiply to judgeship in the Supreme Court of that State, rendered vacant by the resignation of Woodbury Davis.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The church which was being built for a Methodist congregation at the corner of Union avenue and Noble street, was blown down last night at about 12 o'clock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Commercial's Washington dispatch says there is good reason for believing that Secretary McCulloch recommends the steady funding of the debt with the regular withdrawal of greenbacks, which must cause a contraction of National Bank circulation.

It is officially announced that the Government has received no information of any difficulty on the Rio Grande.

The Union Congressional Caucus will be held on Saturday night.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A. Herrington, Chancellor of the State of Delaware, died suddenly at the Washington House in this city to-day.

Only about twenty-eight members of Congress are at present here.

The President is still engaged on his annual message.

Army Regulations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—An order has been issued removing all colored troops from posts on the frontier.

A board has been organized under an order of the President, consisting of Major Generals Halleck, Hooker, Meade, Col. Simpson, Medical Director of the Medical Department, with Brevet Maj. Fusey, of the 5th Infantry, which will assemble at Philadelphia, to examine and report on all applications for retirement from the regular service.

A prominent question before the next Congress will be the increase of the regular army.

Grant is understood to be in favor of mustering volunteers into the regular service and such additions to service as will make the nominal strength of the regular army about 75,000.

The War Department has issued an order announcing the decease of Gen. DeRussy of the Engineer Corps, and requiring the Engineer officers to wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

The following officers have been brevetted Maj Generals: Paymaster General B. W. Bec, Inspector General James Fry, Assistant Quartermaster General James Thomas.

The Finances.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Internal Revenue report was completed yesterday and will be put in type at once.

The report is revived that the civil trial of Jeff Davis is at hand.

The Herald's special says it is reported that the report of the Comptroller of the Currency was sent to the printers yesterday. In viewing the question of National Banks and the currency, it presents very reliable facts to the law makers. It is understood that the Comptroller will urge moving his bureau to New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—It is expected that Gov. Howard's voluminous reports on Freedmen will be in hands of the printers to-day.

Grant on Mexican Affairs.

RICHMOND, Nov. 27.—General Grant freely expressed his opinion in regard to Mexican affairs. He said emphatically that the advent of Maximilian to the pretended throne of Mexico was a part of the rebellion, and his immediate expulsion shall be a part of it. France did not ask our consent to his establishment on the throne, and we should not consult that power in re-establishing a republic. He said if France should choose to interfere in this question, if she chooses to involve herself in a war with the United States, this is the time while our army is yet organized.

The Tribune's special dispatch has information to the effect that the relations of our government with France and England are entirely satisfactory. There is no probability of a serious disturbance. Napoleon's speculation on Max is very unpopular with the French, and he will withdraw as he can without compromising his dignity.

The Spanish Minister to-day placed before the Secretary of State, under instructions from his Government, a dispatch concerning the slave trade, which was replete with most emphatic expressions expressing opposition to the outrages of the traffic, and pledging the most earnest efforts of the Spanish Government for its suppression.

Investigations show that electrotypes of a compound interest note were obtained before it came into the possession of the Treasury.

The President to Gov. Holden.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Philadelphia Standard publishes the following telegram:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—To Hon. W. W. Holden, Provisional Governor of North Carolina: Accept my thanks for the noble and efficient manner in which you have discharged your duty as Provisional Governor. You will be sustained by Government. The result of the recent elections have greatly damaged prospects of the State in the matter of its relations with the Government. Should the action of the Legislature tend in the same direction, it will increase the mischief done and might be fatal to the Government.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON, President.

President Johnson's letter to Gov. Holden has disappointed those who had hoped he would insist on the admission of the Southern members of Congress, as it shows that he will insist on a compliance with a trial of his policy. The Republican members of Congress here show in their conversation, that they believe the President has undergone no decided change in his feelings towards the South. [illegible] a day or two ago he expressed himself much disappointed with North Carolina for distorting [illegible] against his known and declared wishes. Holden will probably remain Governor provisionally for many months to come.

The Reciprocity Treaty.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Gallet and L. Scott, two members of the Canadian Government, whose arrival has already been announced, are going to assume reciprocal duties and ratify the abrogation of reciprocity made by him in March last. Galt is one of the leading members of the Canadian Government. He probably speaks from authority, and whatever he and his colleagues agree on will be acknowledged and recognized by the Government which they represent.

The Labor Question at the South.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—The work of raising the levees is to be commenced immediately. The Legislature is engaged in the discussion of the Constitution of 1864. The prospects of raising crops next year by the freedmen is good. Many of the Louisiana country papers comment on the fact that the freedmen hold off making contracts to work on the plantations next year and are averse to working, especially for their former owners. There is much complaint in Texas about the collection of rents on the lands as pressing on the people. Business men in Galveston expect a crash in the spring.

Gen. Gregory, Chief of the Bureau of Freedmen of Texas, is reported by Texans as having made a speech lately to the negroes, wherein he condemned the President's reconstruction policy.

CANTON, MISS., Nov. 29.—A collision occurred here last night between a party of State militia searching for arms among the Freedmen and a squad of negroes assisted by some Federal soldiers. Several of the militia were wounded and one severely. A large number of muskets, powder, &c. were found and taken from the negroes.

Destitution in Alabama.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1st.—Official information received here represents that there will be great suffering in Alabama during the present winter, owing to the small amount of corn raised in the State. It is estimated that there will be not less than 10,000 people, black and white, who must be furnished with food until they can raise it for themselves. The Freedmen's Bureau is however under directions from the Secretary of War to take the necessary steps in the matter.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 29.—The two houses of the Legislature met in convention yesterday and elected Houston and Parsons U. S. Senators.

Convention of Colored Men.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—A convention of the colored people of New England, is in session here for the purpose of having the Constitution of the United States so altered as to fix a great qualification on voters and to look to other matters concerning the colored man and his status in the land. C. L. Remond is President of the Convention, which is largely attended.

The South American War.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Rio Janeiro dates of the 24th November, states that Paraguay has received another defeat at Narrangato ten miles above Yaguaretecora. Another slight engagement occurred on the 20th of September, near Tuncolese, in which the Paraguayans burned some thirty villages on their march.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Advices have been received from Rio Janeiro to the 9th of November by the steamer from Havana. This is the opening of a regular communication with Brazil by a direct steam mail route.

It was expected at Rio the war will soon be over. The victory of the allied forces over the Paraguayans are deemed decisive.

The return of the Emperor will be marked by popular fetes.

It is expected there will be a large immigration from the United States. Several gentlemen from Louisiana were in Brazil.

The sudden disappearance of Chas. Raysford, an American merchant, had occasioned much comment.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Further advices from Rio Janeiro say Call, Wood and party, who went to Brazil to negotiate for land for some sixty Southern planters, met with an enthusiastic reception. The President promises all aid in furtherance of the project.

The Paraguayans, it is said, have withdrawn their battalions from below the Parana.

The iron clad Brazil sailed from Montevideo Oct. 20th, to join the Brazilian fleet at Parana.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Custom House authorities have ceased the search after the body of Preston King. A thorough search has been made at all places where it was supposed he might be.

HAVANA, Nov. 22.—The steamer Hendrick Hudson arrived to-day from Philadelphia. While entering the port a Spanish man of war ran into her, striking her amidships, and cutting her down to the water's edge. She had a government pilot on board at the time.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Nov. 12.—The King of Denmark has given Messrs. Jackauld & Co. a concession for laying a telegraph between England and Norway and North America.

General News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Judge Wright, of Indiana, is here as Delegate from Louisiana. He maintains that by rebellion the Southern States has relapsed into a territorial condition. This is the basis on which he will present himself to Congress as a Delegate.

Hon. Chas. D. Poston, who last year represented Arizona, is here, distributing among Congressmen an address by the people of that Territory, in which he states a perfidious plot was concocted by Governor Goodwin to defeat him and elect himself. Poston says it remains to be seen whether under circumstances stated, a Governor of a remote Territory can cross Congressional legislation. He showed a certificate signed by his name founded on fraudulent votes and registered by his own judges and clerks, and corrected by himself.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The steamer Atlanta has arrived at this city.

HALIFAX, Nov. 30.—Late advices from St. Thomas have been received. The U. S. steamer Juniata arrived there on the 11th and sailed on the 20th. From recent returns received at the Indian Bureau, the warlike tribes in the United States are designated to represent a comparative strength of 17,800, of which number 24,000 are known to have served in the rebel service during the late rebellion.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Tammany Democrats have ratified the nomination of John T. Hoffman for Mayor, and Richard O. Gorman for Corporation Council at the Cooper Institute.

Toronto papers say that the number of Fenians enrolled and now drilling in Canada, is stated to be nearly 8,270. Nearly one half of them are ready armed.

EASTON, Pa., December 1st.—The express train from Harrisburg collided with a coal train this morning, killing seven persons and wounding ten or twelve others, some of them dangerously.

WASHINGTON, December 1st.—The Chronicle announces authoritatively that Gen. Grant will not go farther South than Charleston during his present trip.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—A dispatch says important information regarding Maximilian affairs, has just been received by the Government.

Dispatches from New Orleans announce a collision between Federal and French troops on the Rio Grande.

News from El Paso received this afternoon by Romero, Maximilian's Minister, states that the recent movement of the national forces of Maximilian compelled the French troops in Chihuahua to evacuate the city and State, and withdraw to Durango. On the 25th of October the evacuation began, and four days later not a single French soldier was left in Chihuahua.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—A Brownsville correspondent of the 16th says the correspondence between Weitzel and Mejia culminated in the following: The Mexican authorities have effectually notified the commanding General that the Ranchero would be obliged to cease publishing articles insulting to United States soldiers and people, and it is ordered that officers and soldiers of this command will not allow persons on the neutral bank insult any person on the Mexican side.

WASHINGTON, November 30.—Additional official news received by the Mexican Minister is to the effect that not only the State of Chihuahua but that of Sonora also are being evacuated by the French.

THE STANDARD

AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first-class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ, in the construction of our tables, a variety of machines specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.

Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the appliances of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player M. Berger has published the following opinion:

New York, 2d August, 1861

"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united in their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The BILLIARD CUE, a Journal published in the interest of Billiards and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news, and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

M. E. HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.

ANDREW JOHNSON ON IMPARTIAL SUFFRAGE.

The declaration has repeatedly been made that the President thinks [illegible] late hopeful [illegible] for suffrage. That he is strongly opposed to giving the ballot at once to all the colored men [illegible] North and the South we well know. But [illegible] apparent [illegible] make intelligence or merit the [illegible] A frank and full expression of his opinions [illegible] the subject was [illegible] given by Mr. [illegible] Senator [illegible] President's conversation [illegible] with Mr. H[illegible].

[illegible] that the States are still [illegible] think that the [illegible] interfere with the franchise [illegible] that [illegible] under their [illegible] State constitutions as they existed before the rebellion. But as an individual he [illegible] that the [illegible] in Tennessee and would [illegible] the [illegible] extend [illegible] can read the Constitution of the United States in English and write their names, and [illegible] all persons of [illegible] own real estate valued at not less than two hundred and fifty dollars and who pay taxes [illegible] I have now quoted the precise words of the President and [illegible] will see that if the Democratic party endorse him they must [illegible] negro suffrage and thus remove the last plank from their platform. I am rejoiced myself to see all parties endorsing the President. I am satisfied he is doing the best he can to restore peace and harmony between the sections. He may commit errors. It would be strange if he did not. [illegible] I think he may [illegible] and that whenever he finds an error he will [illegible] and correct it on the side of justice and the Union.

Again in a conversation with Geo. L. Stearns, the substance of which has been published and endorsed by Mr. [illegible] with his own name the subjoined statements were made by the President:

"My position here is different from what it would be in Tennessee. There I should try to introduce negro suffrage gradually; first those who had served in the army; those who could read and write and perhaps a small property qualification for others."

These statements show precisely where the President stands in relation to the question of negro suffrage. There are many who hold the theory that there is a natural antagonism between the two races which will forever prevent them from living harmoniously under the same political system; but whether this theory be right or wrong, it is evident that Mr. Johnson does not believe in it.

The State Journal publishes the following which is to be put down in the account against the di[illegible] minutive, though greedy politicians of Salem and the organ that represents them:

There is a little clique in this State that never had any principles to speak of and lack the stamina to back up what little they have. They frequently get frightened at their own shadows and cut some awful "splurges." McClellan scared them. Everybody can see now that he came very near taking the country; he carried New Jersey or some other Copperhead State and they endorsed him, "to be on the popular side." Since then they have found out that Union men do not all exactly agree on some of the minute questions growing out of the war and with their accustomed sagacity they commence fixing up their traps "to be on the popular side." They fancy they see a little capital left in the "nigger" [illegible] so they try to run on to the Copperheads and in regular "flapdoodle" style raise the rebel howl that Union men are in favor of "negro suffrage," and are publishing "negro suffrage organs." Their organ has been used so long to carry out the selfish schemes of a few, that its feelings are generally understood, and if it should go over "body and breeches" to the Copperheads or what is still worse, labor in their interest while pretending to be serving the Union party, it can not take a hundred votes away from the ticket in the State.

THE CASE OF HENRY A. WISE.—A Richmond dispatch of October 25th says:

Some time ago it will be remembered this correspondent set forth the character of the application of ex-Governor, ex-General and ex-rebel Henry A. Wise to be repossessed of his estate in Virginia by the Government. The papers which were submitted by Wise to Major General Terry through General E. W. Smith, were of an elaborate character, like unto everything emanating from the gray haired redoubtable for the past twenty years or more. I remember how they were regarded at the time by the leading officers at headquarters and therefore am not surprised to learn that upon their reference to Lieutenant General Grant, that officer has denied the application in toto, adding a significant intimation that Wise must either take the oath of allegiance, which he has heretofore refused to do, or take up his quarters at no distant day in some one of the national forts. As memory serves, there was contained in the papers asking clement consideration, and submitted to Gen. Grant, a distinct announciation by Wise of his inability to take the oath of allegiance. Only on yesterday I saw this broken down old man tottering his way from the presence of loyal military majesty, only the owner in his own right of senility and senselessness. As he passed I wondered how so much of human anomaly could possibly be vouchsafed to one frail man. How appropriate to him and his future the line in the Œdipus Tyrannus!

The Statesman of Salem quotes the Statesman of Walla Walla in support of its style of politics. This is fit and proper since the politics of the two papers precisely agree.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.—They are the primary cause of nearly all diseases. One table spoonful of the genuine Hall's Pulmonary Balsam taken at bed time will cure any cold no matter where located.

THE IMPORTANCE OF A CORRECT DECISION!—Thousands of persons suffering from the effects of a cold apparently trifling, delude themselves with the too common idea that it is of little consequence, and will soon wear off, when, in fact, it is the first note of a death knell unless it be promptly decided to use "Newell's Pulmonary Syrup," the most effective remedy known, for the speedy cure of all affections of the lungs of whatever nature.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPT }
Salem, December 5, 1865 }

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives

The Constitution of this State requires the Governor to give, from time to time, to the Legislative Assembly, information touching the condition of the State, and to recommend such measures as he shall judge expedient, and when convened on extraordinary occasions, that he shall state to both Houses when assembled the purpose for which they shall have been convened.

The principal object for which I have called you together is, to recommend that you adopt the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, proposed by the last session of Congress for the purpose of abolishing slavery wherever it exists in the nation.

"There is one calamity," says De Tocqueville, "which penetrated furtively into the world, and which was at first scarcely distinguishable amidst the ordinary abuses of power; it originated with an individual whose name history has not preserved; it was wafted like some accursed germ upon a portion of the soil; but it afterward nurtured itself, grew without effort, and spread naturally with the society to which it belonged. This calamity is slavery. Christianity suppressed slavery, but the Christians of the sixteenth century re-established it, as an exception, indeed, to their social system and restricted it to one of the races of mankind."

From the commencement of the African slave trade in 1508 to 1860, it appears, from the most reliable evidence to be obtained, that upwards of fifteen and a half millions of human beings were forcibly torn from their native country, early associations and family ties, and were doomed to perpetual slavery—themselves and their offspring—in a foreign land. Language is unequal to the task of recounting the bitter, burning wrongs which were perpetrated upon that unfortunate people by carrying on this most unholy traffic. An indistinct picture may be formed in the imagination when we call to mind the well authenticated facts.

Lord Palmerston, speaking in the house of lords in 1844, gave some of the reasons which stirred the government to move in this matter. He said:

"The negroes destined for the slave trade are not taken from the neighborhood where they are embarked. A great number come from the interior. Many are captives made in wars excited by thirst for the gain procured by the sale of the prisoners. But the greatest number arise from kidnapping expeditions, and an organized system of man-stealing in the interior of Africa.

"When the time approaches to set out with the slave caravans for the coast, the kidnappers surround a peaceful village at night, set it on fire, and seize on the inhabitants, killing all who resist. If the village attacked is situated on a mountain offering facilities for flight and the inhabitants take refuge in the caverns, the kidnappers kindle fires at the entrance, and those who are sheltered there, placed between death by suffocation and slavery, are forced to give themselves up. If the fugitives take refuge on the hights, the assailants render themselves masters of all the springs and wells, and the unfortunates, devoured by thirst, return to barter liberty for life.

"The prisoners made, they proceed to the choice. The robust individuals of both sexes, and the children of above six or seven years of age, are set aside to form a part of the caravan which is to be driven to the sea shore. They rid themselves of the children under six years by killing them on the spot, and abandon the aged and infirm, thus compelling them to die of hunger.

"The caravan sets out. Men, women and children traverse the burning sands and rocky defiles of the mountains of Africa barefoot and almost naked. The feeble are stimulated by the whip; the strong are secured by chaining them together or placing them under a yoke. Many fall from exhaustion on the road, and die, or become the prey of wild beasts.

"On reaching the seashore, they are penned up, and crowded together in buildings called barracoons, where they fall a prey to epidemics. Death often cruelly thins their ranks before the arrival of a slave trader."

Lord Palmerston's general deduction from these and other facts connected with the trade is contained in the same speech. "It is calculated," he says, "that of three negroes seized in the interior of Africa to be sent into slavery, but one reaches his destination; the two others die in the course of the [illegible] of the slave trade. Whatever may be the number yearly landed, therefore, we must triple it to obtain the true number of human beings which this [illegible] table traffic annually carries off from Africa."

Of the millions thus robbed of more than life, but one third withstood the horrors of "the middle passage."

In the American colonies, public opinion as well as legislation had uniformly been against the African slave trade. The inhabitants of Virginia were controlled by British authority. Their legislative halls had [illegible] with eloquence directed against the plague of negro slavery. [illegible] and [illegible] they passed laws restraining the [illegible]

Yet in 1860, there were 3,953,587 slaves in the United States, many of whom were nearer white than black, held under a system that disregarded paternal feeling, destroyed the sacred rights of marriage, and made it a crime for any one to teach a slave to read even the words of eternal life; a system, the horrors of which have been increasing during the last forty years, while there has been a corresponding decrease in the percentage of slavery.

"The whole commerce," said Mr. Jefferson, "between master and slave is a perpetual exercise of the most boisterous passions—the most unremitting despotism on one part and degrading submission on the other. Our children see this and learn to imitate it." "The man must be a prodigy who can retain his manners and his morals under such circumstances."

"The prevailing ideas entertained by Mr. Jefferson and most of the leading statesmen at the time of the formation of the Constitution were, that the [illegible] of the African was in violation of the laws of nature; that it was wrong in principle, socially, morally and politically. It was an evil they knew not well how to deal with, but the general opinion of the men of the day was, that, somehow or other, in the order of Providence, the institution would become evanescent and pass away. This idea, though not incorporated in the constitution, was the prevailing idea at that time."

Recently, however, the slave power, not satisfied with shaping the legislation of the country and holding a majority of the offices of honor and profit, has been so exacting that newspapers which freely discussed the question of slavery and told the bloody story of its wrongs, have been denied the mails. Freedom of the press and of speech upon the subject has existed only in name in one-third of the republic. Mobs, revolvers and bowie-knives have been made subservient to its commands in attempting to crush all opposition to its unholy mandates. Conventions of its friends have been held even in the northern states where resolutions have been passed declaring that it was the duty of the government to protect slavery in the territories and wherever its constitutional authority extends.

The depravity of man's nature has been so quickened by contact with slavery, that the institution, conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity, with all its monstrosities and hideous and disgusting deformities, has been called divine. It has sown to the winds and from the whirlwinds will reap destruction. The day is not distant, when no man shall be called master or slave.

The constitution made by our patriotic fathers who shed their blood to establish it, as freely as their gallant sons, in the last four years, have shed theirs to preserve it, provides the way in which this last vestige of barbarism shall be forever removed from the escutcheon of our nation.

The fifth article of the constitution of the United States provides that whenever two thirds of both houses of congress shall propose an amendment to the same such amendment shall become a part of the constitution whenever such proposition shall have been "ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states." No exception whatever is made with reference to the subject of slavery.

On the first day of February, A. D. 1865, a resolution was passed in congress by the constitutional majority, providing for an amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery. And as the news of its passage was wafted over the nation upon the wings of the wind, twenty millions of people clapped their hands for joy.

By a special letter from Secretary Seward I am requested "to cause the decision of the legislature to be taken upon the subject," so as to complete the work so well begun.

On the 23d of September seventeen states had adopted the amendment and officially notified the Department of State of the fact. How many have adopted it since I am not advised, but from the triumphs of late elections in the east, it cannot be doubted that, by the dawning of another year every man in the republic can stand up in the enjoyment of the native liberty to which he was created—claiming and receiving the "inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"If slavery is not wrong, nothing is wrong." It has wronged the masters. Those who violate the rights of one class are liable to lose a portion of their respect for the rights of all others. They may have been indulgent, kind fathers and neighbors, honorable in their business transactions and esteemed in society. Still the anomaly is presented of men whose characters in one respect entitle them to be called civilized and refined in others, especially in their dealings with the proscribed race, their conduct would indicate that their feelings were those akin to barbarism.

The system has greatly wronged the "poor whites" of the south. Its extensive plantations have prevented a general diffusion of knowledge by means of common schools. Slavery has rendered labor dishonorable in the estimation of thousands who would have otherwise thrived by it. It closed the avenues of commerce and the march of internal improvements. Such a system is fraught with danger to our form of government and tends to the building up of an aristocracy. Such has been the character which slavery has stamped upon every form of government where it has existed. Its spirit and practice is not only averse to religion and civilization but to democracy also. Many expressions, I regret, have been made by slave holders within the last four years that we overthrow all the monarchical form of government and a desire to return to it has been manifested. The two systems of labor cannot peaceably exist in a republic. Slavery cannot be made national and ought not to be. The effort to nationalize it has, like the institution itself, been considered in no other sense than an utter failure.

If slavery were not wrong in any other sense the fact that it was the cause of and began the late wicked rebellion is a sufficient reason for its abolition. Slavery fired the first gun at Fort Sumter and thus began the war. To deny this, is to contradict one of the best corroborated facts in our history. If its existence be suffered it will remain a constant menace to our government and an inexhaustible source of future trouble, sooner or later to culminate in open war when the object we now seek will be accomplished or slavery will be nationalized.

The slaves in most of the rebellious States have been emancipated by proclamation and act of Congress, but it is contended that such acts are illegal. Without stopping to argue that question, let us now, as if nothing had been done, abolish slavery in the manner prescribed by the Constitution, so that none can reasonably cavil. Not included in such act or proclamation there remain probably over half a million of slaves scattered over a long narrow border strip bounded on the north by free States and on the south by States whence slavery has been legally banished, or else scattered in isolated districts intermixed with enfranchised slaves. Certainly such an anomalous condition of things as this cannot peaceably exist. At every step, innumerable embarrassments obstruct our progress. No human energy and sagacity would be able to determine the ten thousand conflicting questions which would surely arise out of such chaos. It would be impossible if desirable, to protect the struggling remnant of slavery in the border States, and no freedman would be secure in his liberty so long as slavery existed in a single spot in the United States.

Again, the negroes have earned their freedom and faithfully paid the price in blood—blood shed not only for their liberties but for ours and for the cause of humanity. Nearly two hundred thousand served our beloved country in the recent life struggle. Had all the slaves been as faithful to the rebels as those soldiers were to us, with the aid and comfort given to secessionists by their friends in the north and in Europe, according to human wisdom it would have been impossible to have crushed the rebellion and saved the Government. Thus we owe a debt of gratitude to these brave and faithful black soldiers, which no rights that we can ever bestow upon them will repay.

We have tried, I trust to the satisfaction of all, the experiment of keeping negroes in slavery and ignorance and it has proven an utter failure and nearly desolated one third of our country, which from natural resources, under free labor would have out vied any other part in wealth and progress. It is time we begin the policy dictated by justice, reason and humanity—free the slaves and educate them—"the heathen are at our doors." Here is the field for the philanthropist and missionary.

But we can no longer keep in slavery those who have breathed the breath of freedom and tasted the sweets of their own labor. They now know the power and the use of arms. Let us profit by the lesson taught France in St. Domingo—a lesson taught by the bloody resistance of the inhabitants of that island to the attempt of their former masters to re-enslave them. Every possible irritating cause, tending to another attempt at disrupting our country should be removed.

The persistent opposition to this called session and the adoption of this amendment both here and in the East indicate that plans are formed to prevent further abolition of slavery and if possible to re-establish it. We have had one slave holders' rebellion; let us prevent the historian from recording another. If we wish to deserve and preserve the respect of mankind; if we would act as statesmen, having in view the peace and safety of our country through all future time we must meet the great question before us broadly, effectually, honorably and in accordance with the dictates of Christianity and civilization. Let us follow the noble example of at least seventeen States which have written their names upon the honorable page now laid you and awaiting your signatures.

England, France, Denmark, Sweden, Portugal, Holland and Russia, have rid themselves of this vile incubus. Let us do the same and act promptly; the relations existing between us and the negroes should not be left in the present anomalous condition, their status should be defined at once, and the necessary legislation had at this Congress to settle the vexed question. Four millions of oppressed human beings look up and stretch forth their hands imploringly for deliverance. A year is an age with them in their present suspense.

Oregon has a noble record during this war—let us not now refuse this crowning act of glory, or be the last State to record its name on this scroll of fame.

Vattel has said that "to deliver an oppressed people is a noble fruit of victory," and history declares that nations grow in honor and power as they do well. Let us place our greatness in the front rank of Christian Republican rule, by doing equal and exact justice to all men.

SUFFRAGE.

Article II of the State Constitution says, that "in all elections, not otherwise provided for by this Constitution, every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the State during the six months immediately preceding such election, and every white male of foreign birth of the age of twenty one years and upwards who shall have resided in the United States one year, and shall have resided in this State during the six months immediately preceding such election, and shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States one year preceding such election conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, shall be entitled to vote at all elections authorized by law."

The purity of elections is indispensable to our form of government. It is a well known fact that heretofore there have been many illegal votes cast at every election in the counties bordering on California and Washington Territory. There are also many migratory characters perambulating the Pacific coast who have no particular interests or home anywhere, and many of them offer to vote, and generally do vote wherever they happen to be, regardless of any compliance with constitutional and lawful provisions giving such right. Good government implies that its officers should be the friends of at least a majority of the governed. "A person who has no sympathy with our Government ought not to vote." We do not allow a man even from a friendly foreign power to exercise the right of suffrage immediately on his arrival in our country, nor [illegible] should we permit a man to vote, who, after being educated under our form of government, hates it so badly that he improves the first opportunity to take up arms against it. Treason is a crime, and persons guilty of it, in all countries forfeit their rights and cannot vote unless they have been pardoned. That we have persons in the State who are so unfriendly to the Government that they are unwilling to take the oath of allegiance and that there are others among us who have fought against the Government cannot be denied. Such persons ought not to attempt to control a government at the polls which they could not destroy by the sword. We cannot ignore the national [illegible] the dead cannot be raised; there can be no indemnity for the past; but we should do all in our power for security in the future. To remedy evils similar to the above, and to provide such security other States have passed registry laws. There can be no objection to such a law here on the part of any man who wishes the elective franchise exercised by legal voters and loyal men.

The term "citizens of the United States" as used in our Constitution means more than a man who has been born and raised in the United States. It implies that he is a law abiding, loyal man—one who has not forfeited his rights by the commission of any crime. Voting in any State always implies loyalty in the voter. Under the Constitution of the United States, one of the obligations which a State assumes on its admission into the Union is that its citizens shall remain loyal to the government. When such obligation is thrown off by a state, it loses its rights as such State, but the general government is bound to secure and maintain a republican form of government within the boundaries thereof. Hence a majority of the citizens of a State may require as a fulfillment of such obligation and as a keeping of its plighted faith, that its inhabitants shall swear that they have not done that which forfeits their rights to vote—are not traitors nor abettors of treason—on penalty of perjury and the exclusion from the polls.

This is no new principle, but the extending of one invariably recognized here ever since the organization of our State Government. When the vote of a man has been challenged, he has been required to swear that he was twenty one years of age, that he was a citizen, or had declared his intention, that he had resided in the State and county the prescribed length of time. If all this can be required may we not, with a greater propriety, in times like these, require that a voter shall not be a traitor and that he has not committed the crime of treason which is subversive of all good government?

This principle was especially recognized by an act of the Legislature, approved October 16, 1862, but the act was not as complete as it ought to have been and it was not made anybody's special business to challenge, and frequently where challenges were most needed, none were made. A registry law should require every man to take the oath of allegiance before his name is entered on the list of voters, and none should be allowed to vote whose names are not registered. No good citizen who has been true and faithful to his government can reasonably object to taking the oath. The law should be so framed as not to make it burthensome or expensive to the people.

COUNTIES.

I respectfully call your attention to the condition of the country in the vicinity of Fort Klamath, in Wasco county, and recommend that you take into consideration the propriety of changing the southern line of Wasco and the eastern line of Jackson county, so as to include the Klamath Lake country in Jackson county. I am informed by reliable citizens of Southern Oregon that such a change is desirable. A wagon road is now completed from Jacksonville to Fort Klamath, a distance of about ninety miles, while the distance from the Fort to the County seat of Wasco county is about two hundred and fifty miles. I think it is about the same distance from the Fort to Canyon City. In the transaction of all county business the settlers in Klamath valley can be better accommodated by being connected with Jackson county.

CODE.

Eight hundred and eight pages of the Code and Laws have been printed. To correct slight errors and omissions which may have crept in some amendments ought to be made, but it would be very unwise to repeal the Code as a whole.

A question has arisen in the public mind concerning the proper construction to be given to section 6[illegible] of the criminal code, commonly called the Sunday Law. It is,—are there any kinds of secular labor to be deemed works of necessity, except those specially declared to be so? For the purpose of preventing unnecessary litigation, I would recommend that that section of the criminal code be amended so as to declare what construction should be given to it in this particular, as for instance, that except as to those acts specially prohibited or allowed by the section what constitutes a work of necessity shall be a question of fact to be determined on the trial of the action therefor. The better opinion seems to be that such is the proper construction of the section as it now stands, and doubtless such was the understanding of the Assembly in passing it. But it is well enough to take the club out of the hands of those who seek to make the law odious by construing it strictly or enforcing it beyond what was intended.

I also recommend the amendment of section 2, of the Justice's act defining the criminal jurisdiction of justice's courts. The first sub division should be changed so as to give jurisdiction of larceny, when the punishment may be imprisonment in the county jail or fine. As all larcenies are liable to be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary, the sub division as it now stands confers no jurisdiction on justice's courts at all. I would suggest that a clause be added to this section, allowing a justice's court to impose a less punishment in the cases of assaults, and assaults and battery over which it has jurisdiction, than as permitted by section [illegible] of the criminal code, prescribing the punishment for such acts. It is only in cases of the most simple assaults and battery, that justices have jurisdiction and it often happens that the lowest fine now allowed—fifty dollars, is an excess of the offence.

MILITARY.

The Adjutant-General's report herewith transmitted is so full and complete that I deem it unnecessary for me to add more than the following suggestions.

The Constitution of every State provides for the organization of the State Militia. All the Governors of Oregon have recommended the organization of the militia, and for the first time, we now have something like a complete system. It is difficult to devise any plan that will please everybody. It is not expected to please those who are opposed to all law, nor to satisfy those who for the last four years have bitterly opposed to the military power of the Government. The law requires every man who is liable to do military duty to either join an independent company or pay two dollars a year in lieu thereof. The money thus raised is expended in paying those who do train, the sum of two dollars a day while they are thus employed. Every dollar thus collected is accounted for in the Adjutant General's reports. The law is not oppressive, as two dollars a year is not high for "exempting a man from doing military duty." Those who think it is, can perform military service instead of paying that amount. A system that required military service, wholly would be of little utility, unless it required at least two or three days service annually, and that amount would be worth more than two dollars a year to most men.

Unless there are more companies of the organized militia formed, there will be a surplus of military funds in the Treasury at the end of the year, and it may be well to authorize the Treasurer to pass the same to the general fund whenever such surplus accumulates.

The last Legislature authorized me to use the sum of ten thousand dollars, at my discretion, for military purposes and I am happy to say that there has been no occasion for its use and not a cent of it has been used or drawn from the Treasury.

The incidents of the war have rendered the labors of the Adjutant General much greater than was contemplated, and he should have additional compensation.

For the credit of Oregon, it affords me pleasure to state that all the troops called for the War Department through Major General McDowell, have been raised, and our patriotic citizens, who responded to their country's call, are entitled to greater consideration when we reflect that they enlisted with less inducements, in the way of bounties, than were held out by any other State which was raising troops at the same time. It would have been an act of great injustice to have required those volunteers to perform military service in which all were alike interested for seventeen dollars a month in currency, without additional bounties. The bounties should have been greater instead of less. The law provided two classes of bonds for this purpose one class redeemable in ten years and the other in twenty. The aggregate amount directed to be issued has been greatly misrepresented.

The aggregate bonds of each class is as follows:

Additional pay bonds	$56,700 16
Bounty bonds	7,900 00
The probable amount yet to be issued	8,200 00
	$101,809 00

FINANCES.

The financial condition of the State appears in the reports of the Secretary of State. There are no liabilities or debts against the State other than the bonds above referred to, which are due in ten and twenty years while our State taxes are less than they are in a majority of the States. I am of the opinion that the current expenses can be met and the redemption of the bonds provided for at a less rate of taxation. I therefore recommend that the rate be reduced.

INSANE ASYLUM.

Herewith I transmit the report from Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea upon the condition of Asylum. It affords me pleasure to be able to state that the institution continues to be well managed, and that the proprietors are faithfully performing the conditions of their contract. The Asylum is a credit to the State and the proprietors.

The past year has been an eventful one. Feelings mingled with hope, sorrow and rejoicing have pervaded the public mind. The ordeal through which the nation has passed has been a terrible one, but the triumphs of the battle field and the ballot box present a sublime spectacle. We have tested the endurance, constancy and strength of the people and in spite of the boasted threats of the [illegible] in spite of the predictions of high officials even in Oregon, that the war must result in the eternal severance of the Union, that "this war was never intended to restore the Union," that "the time is now close at hand and beginning to be felt when all must share the common ruin." In spite of such opposition to the efforts of our government at self preservation, the armies of the enemy of our country are scattered and those who were their leaders are now humbly bowing with entreaties for mercy from a power which they could not break.

"Powers depart,
Possessions vanish and opinions change,
And passions hold a fluctuating seat,
But by the storms of circumstance unshaken
And subject neither to eclipse nor wane,
Duty exists."

The work of re-organizing society and establishing law and order in the rebellious States is now before us. Nothing should be done in the spirit of malice or revenge. The great mass of those who engaged in the unholy warfare against the government were deceived and enraged by false statements of their wicked leaders as to the character and purposes of the people of the North. Unmistakable security for the future must however be required.

The providence which has so manifestly guided our destinies, has permitted the direction of the work to fall into the hands of the able and patriotic Andrew Johnson. In him we trust, and with him are the hopes of the golden hour.

From the issuing of the Emancipation Proclamation, victory after victory followed each other in quick succession and when the spirit of secession found it could not otherwise conquer, it was prepared to murder. And as halcyon peace was preparing to rest upon the bosom of the nation like a descending god, Abraham Lincoln, that good man—the preserver of his country—fell, struck down by the hand of the assassin. No pen can describe the gloom that palled the nation and shocked the world. Twice the nation had been called to mourn the loss of the chief magistrate, but now it seemed the fountain of tears had been broken up and there was none to comfort. The blow was not aimed at him only but was designed to strike the central power of the government. We would that he might have lived out his three score years and ten that he might have seen and felt a nation's gratitude for its deliverance in her hour of peril. And if die he must, we would that it might have been a calm and peaceful death in the full enjoyment of his faculties, surrounded by his family and friends. How richly do we cherish the farewell address of the father of his country, none the less would we prize one from its preserver. His name embalmed in the memory of a grateful people, with those of our brave, patriotic and self sacrificing soldiers who suffered torture in prisons and laid down their lives upon the altar of our beloved country shall be handed down to a grateful posterity, and "the blood of this noble army of martyrs shall be, as of old, the seed of the church."

"Flung to the viewless winds
Or on the waters cast
Their ashes shall be watched
And gathered at the last,
While from their scattered dust,
Around us and abroad,
Shall spring the plenteous seed
Of witnesses for God."

ADDISON C. GIBBS.

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest or Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
